NEW BLIZZARD MOVES TOWARD MIDDLE WEST

Polar Mass Expected To Envelop State Tonight

Chicago, Feb. 12.—(P)—A new cold wave moved toward the middle west tonight in the wake of scattered snow.

The mercury plumbed thermometric depths again in western Canada and the northwestern sector of the United States with the polar mass expected to envelop most of the North Central States tomorrow. A reading of -41 marked the 29th consecutive day of subzero temperatures at Bemidji, Minn. A 62 year old record fell at Bismarck, N. D., when a below zero reading was registered for the 33rd successive day. A minimum of -27 was recorded there today. A drop to -50 at Saskatoon, Sask., Canada, rounded out 56 days in a row in which the thermometer has never ventured above -20.

Other low marks included: Mont. N. D., -39; Havre, Mont., -30; Sheridan, Wyo., -16; Aberdeen, S. D., -21; Lethbridge, Md., -13.

Snow fell in half the northern states between the Rockies and Ohio. The one to five inch deposit in South Dakota hampered efforts to reach communities isolated by the recent blizzard. Cooper, advance and Red Owl were reported cut off by drifted roads. Many of the 400 residents of Hereford, marooned for more than a week, were reported to have exhausted fuel supplies. The general store rationed food. Gasoline shortage and fear of another storm caused a relief expedition to turn back.

Sleds brought food to Winslow, Ill., a settlement of 350 inhabitants that had been cut off by drifts "as high as telephone poles" for four days. Telephoned reports that no bread or butter was available and only a few tons of coal were left had resulted in the formation of a shovel crew to clear the way from Lena, 12 miles distant.

Workmen manned snowplows in a renewed attempt to open a path to the Milwaukee children's convalescent home in Waukesha county, Wis. The place has been snowbound for a week.

Gov. C. L. Herring of Iowa urged mayors to confiscate coal stores if necessary to insure general distribution and prevent hoarding.

Elusive Cause Of Common Cold Is Bottled Up

Invisible Virus Retains Power After Being Held 20 Months

By Howard W. Blakeslee
Associated Press Science Editor

New York, Feb. 12.—(P)—The long elusive cause of the common cold has been kept bottled up successfully for 20 months in a test tube at Columbia University.

Dr. A. Raymond Dochez, professor of Medicine at Columbia University School of Medicine announced tonight that this long period of artificial cultivation, completely away from the human body, makes it certain that the cause is an invisible virus.

In the Columbia there are no bacteria or other forms of infection visible. But in all the 20 months its liquid contents have retained the power to give a human being, or a chimpanzee, a violent cold. In all that time the invisible cause has lived and reproduced itself on chicken embryo for food.

This work of Dr. Dochez is in line with other medical experiments pointing to the same common cold cause, and to a "double complex" as the mechanism of human colds.

In this double complex the invisible virus is the basic cause. Its function is to weaken the respiratory organs. Thus weakened, the organs are attacked by common, visible bacteria, which bring the complications familiar to cold sufferers.

"Until very recently," Dr. Dochez said, speaking at an alumni day meeting, "the true causes of common cold and influenza were unknown. For many years it was believed that the ordinary bacteria found so frequently in the mouth were the cause."

Earlier today papers on behalf of Dr. Dochez were filed in Springfield, Ill., placing his name on the ballot for the April presidential primary.

Col. Frank Knox Open Candidate

Boston, Feb. 12.—(P)—Col. Frank Knox announced today he was an open candidate for the Republican presidential nomination.

To the question of newspaper reporters, "You are a candidate now, Colonel?" Knox replied,

"Yes, I filed this morning at Springfield."

Earlier today papers on behalf of Dr. Dochez were filed in Springfield, Ill., placing his name on the ballot for the April presidential primary.

LUNDGREN PROMOTED

St. Louis, Feb. 12.—(P)—Brigadier Victor Lundgren, divisional commander of the Salvation Army for Missouri and southern Illinois, has been promoted to the rank of Lieutenant-Colonel. It was announced today.

The promotion is in recognition of Col. Lundgren's 31st year with the organization. A graduate of the Chicago Theological Seminary, he came here six years ago from the Nebraska division.

Friends Attempt To Raise Money To Pay Ransom

American Mining Official Is Being Held By Mexican Band

Guadalajara, Mexico, Feb. 12.—(P)—Friends attempted today to raise money to ransom Samuel C. Faneuf, American mining official, from a kidnap band which has held him prisoner for two days.

A federal cavalry detachment is following the bandits, but is not attempting to effect a capture, pending the outcome of negotiations. The amount of the ransom demanded is still undisclosed.

Authorities said they were convinced Faneuf was safe as long as the troopers did not molest the kidnapers.

Authorities said they were convinced that Candelario Rojas, insurgent leader, heads the band.

The wife of the kidnap victim, Mrs. Hortense Faneuf, said today in San Francisco that she was relieved when told that Rojas was in charge of Faneuf.

"Rojas has a reputation for kindness and fair treatment of his victims," she explained. "He will not harm my husband. I am sure, if the reward is paid quickly and no attempt is made to arrest him until after my husband is safe."

Faneuf has four daughters also living in San Francisco while a fifth has been with him in Mexico.

Leaves $7,000,000 To Chicago School

Chicago, Feb. 12.—(P)—President Walter Dill Scott of Northwestern University announced tonight that the university had been bequeathed an estimated $7,000,000 under the will of the late Roger Deering of the Deering family.

Offered for probate today at Miami, Fla., the will named Northwestern residuary legatee after several other bequests were paid. Dr. Scott said. The gift was for the school's general endowment fund.

Deering was a son of late Charles Deering and a grandson of William Deering, whose implement making firm bearing the family name, became a major unit of the International Harvester Company. Roger Deering, an invalid all of his life, died Feb. 2, 1935, in Phoenix, Ariz.

University authorities said the Roger Deering bequest would bring total donations of the William Deering estate to Northwestern to about $10,000,000.

CORN GRIND

New York, Feb. 12.—(P)—A corn grind of 6,043,000 bushels for the domestic market during January, a 5 per cent increase over December, was reported today by the Corn Industries Research Foundation. Heavy imports of duty free foreign starches continues to hold back the demand for corn starches, the foundation said.

NOT BEING CONSIDERED

Madison, Wis., Feb. 12.—(P)—Dr. Clarence W. Speer, head football coach at the University of Wisconsin, today said he has not applied for the job of coach at Cornell University.

"So far as I know, my name is not being considered," he said.

R. J. DUNHAM IERC MEMBER RESIGNS POST

Resignation Requested By Gov. Horner; Roach Quits

Springfield, Ill., Feb. 12.—(P)—The office of Governor Horner announced today that Robert J. Dunham of Chicago, Illinois Works Progress Administrator, had resigned at the request of the governor from the Illinois Emergency Relief Commission.

The governor confirmed the announcement but would not disclose the reason for the action. Dunham has criticized the administration recently in connection with the reorganizing state relief money problem.

It was also announced the governor had accepted the resignation from the IERC of John P. Roach of Chicago, brother-in-law of Mayor Edward J. Kelly. It was explained this resignation was submitted last summer, but had not been accepted previously, although Roach has been an inactive member.

Dunham is a close friend and political ally of Mayor Kelly and the resignation was the latest development in the primary election fight between Mr. Horner and the Chicago Democratic organization. Dunham, until the Chicago endorsement of Dr. Herman Bundeisen of Chicago for governor, was frequently mentioned as a possible candidate against Mr. Horner.

Dunham from September, 1933, until May, 1935, was chairman of the Relief Commission. He was succeeded by John C. Martin of Salem whose resignation also has been submitted to the governor but not yet accepted.

The controversy between Dunham and Mr. Horner came to a head last December when Illinois' poor were threatened by a relief shutdown with the stopping of federal aid. Dunham, in a statement issued at an IERC meeting in Chicago, criticized the administration.

Later in the month, when the IERC announced Governor Horner had previously been uninformed by the commission concerning the desperate financial plight of the relief authority, Dunham led a successful move by commission members to repudiate the statement.

Albuquerque, N. M., Feb. 12.—(P)—A private cabin biplane, caught in a stiff desert wind, was demolished today in a forced landing in which the four occupants were shaken and injured, one critically.

A veteran New Mexico flier said it was a "miracle" B. C. Skinner, owner and pilot, and his three companions were not killed. Buffeted by the wind over Enchanted Mesa, 50 miles west of Albuquerque, they landed at Acomita.

Miss Vivien Skinner, 22-year-old daughter of the pilot, Dunedin, Fla., manufacturing company official, suffered internal injuries and fractures.

They were flown here to a hospital by Major A. D. Smith, division superintendent of a commercial air line, after an emergency radio call from the Acomita field.

The 74-year-old independent in a floor speech declared the tribunal's 6-3 ruling "cannot stand if our country is to live and prosper." It asserted Congress has power to curb the court's jurisdiction.

Aside from adopting clarifying committee amendments, the Senate took no action on the pending AAA replacement measure. A vote is hoped for Friday when debate will be limited.

The administration bill would authorize federal subsidies, administered directly to farmers or to states, for curtailing major crop production through soil improvement programs.

With biting sarcasm, Norris declared the court "for all practical purposes is a continuous constitutional convention." He added:

"The people can change the Congress, but only God can change the Supreme Court."

The Nebraskan hurled his philippic before an attentive membership sharply curtailed by absence of senators in other states extolling the policies of Lincoln.

Norris referred to the emancipator's criticism of the highest tribunal after the Dred Scott decision and likened his own attitude on the AAA ruling to Lincoln's observation of the celebrated slavery case—that efforts would be made to overrule the court along constitutional lines.

"Critics of the court may be ridiculed and run out of polite society," said Norris. "That may happen to me, but I am at least traveling to mighty good company."

Dallas City Council Declines To Rule On Demand Of Club Women

Dallas, Tex., Feb. 12.—(P)—The city appeared convinced today its pretty taxi dancers are hard working wives and mothers, rearing families on 16-cents-a-dance incomes.

Thirty-five dance hall "hostesses" marched to the city hall yesterday in defense of their jobs. With them came babies, mothers, fathers and other relatives proclaiming the girls their breadwinners.

There were tears and occasional taunts but after four hours the council declined to rule on a demand of club women that the dance halls be closed as menaces to public morals. The dancers returned to their jobs unmolested but more closely policed.

It was Mrs. Euzelia McKinley—her taxi-dancing companion called her "Dickie"—who brought the long session to a climax. Weeping, she broke in on the testimony of another witness and declared:

"I am supporting two children dancing. I go to church every Sunday. I don't smoke nor drink and I resent any implication that I am not as good as any of their daughters, as they would have you believe."

She referred to the club women and welfare workers who had brought the matter of taxi dances up before the council.

Secretary Wallace said a "sincere attempt" is being made to replace the AAA with something which the United States supreme court will hold

Local Citizen Has Letter From Woman Who Knew Lincoln

Dr. L. K. Hallock Has Proof of Mrs. Billings' Story of Famed Incident

The true story of how Abraham Lincoln happened to grow a beard may have been told many times, but a letter in the possession of Dr. L. K. Hallock of this city recalls it to mind on this 127th anniversary of the birth of the Great Emancipator. The letter was written to Dr. Hallock some years ago by Mrs. Grace Bedell Billings of Delphus, Kan., who as a little girl in Westfield, N. Y., wrote to Lincoln suggesting that if he would grow a beard it would help him get more votes in the presidential campaign.

Dr. Hallock's former home was at Ada, Kan., twelve miles from Delphus, and when he saw a newspaper concerning Mrs. Billings, he wrote her to inquire as to the Lincoln facts to know. She answered, stating that she had written a story of the matter to the custodian of Lincoln relics at Springfield and vouching for the facts, which are as follows:

In 1860 Mrs. Billings, then Grace Bedell, a girl of 13, lived in Westfield, N. Y. The campaign brought pictures of Abraham Lincoln to her attention, and she noticed that he was clean-shaven. She thought a beard would be more becoming to him and decided to write him a letter about it. She did, and addressed it simply "Abraham Lincoln, Esq." Her family laughed at her and told her the letter would never reach the presidential candidate.

But it did, and Grace received a reply. The letter from Lincoln is still Mrs. Billings' most prized possession. Later the Republican campaign special stopped at Westfield, and Lincoln spoke from the rear platform. At the close of his address he said:

"I have a little correspondent here named Grace Bedell. I would like to have her come to the platform."

The small girl was pushed forward through the crowd. Lincoln stepped off the train, caught her in his arms and kissed her. He rubbed his hand over the beard on his face and told the child that he was carrying out her suggestion.

As far as is known, Mrs. Billings is living today in Delphus, Kan. She is now a white-haired woman of more than 85. She is one of those whose contacts with Lincoln have been substantiated by documentary evidence.

Her father was a native of New York City and her mother of Havenstraw, N. Y. Funeral services were held Tuesday afternoon, Feb. 11, at 2:30 o'clock from Jacoby Brothers funeral chapel to the Episcopal church. Rev. John T. Dillard officiated, and interment was in the Oak Grove cemetery.

The deceased was a granddaughter of Dr. August R. Knapp, a prominent pioneer physician of this section of Illinois.

WPA Project Makes Valuable Articles Of Useless Things

Handicraft Workers Produce Useful, Curious Pieces in Training Class

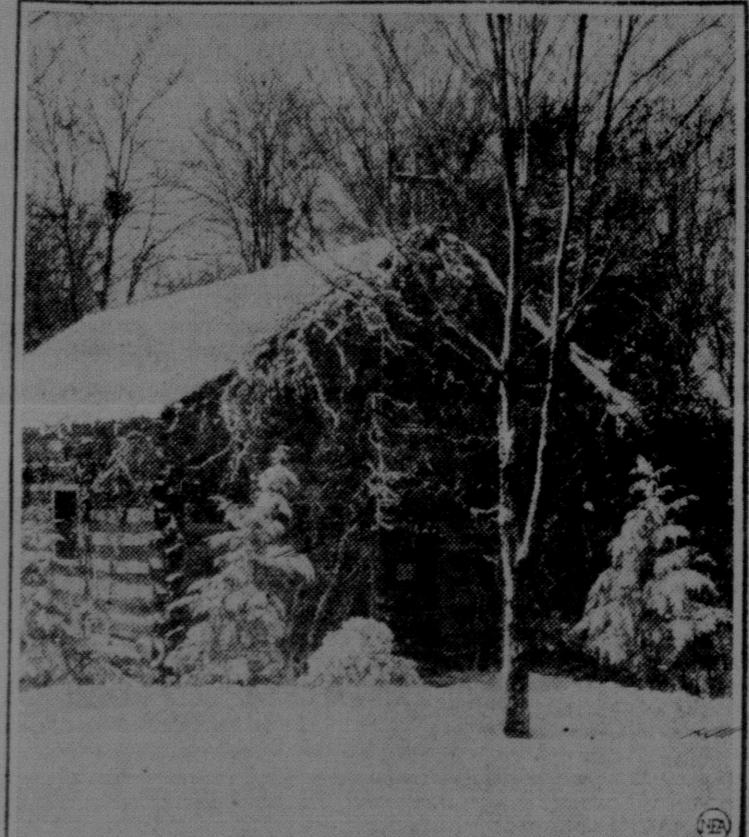

The art of making something valuable out of something that has lost its value and would otherwise go into the rubbish heap should be a real asset to anyone. A corps of instructors employed by WPA is at work in this community to teach that art and several others throughout Morgan county. Already the training class working at the YMCA has produced some most interesting articles, which will be on display shortly in the windows of the Chamber of Commerce.

Ray Spillman of this city is the instructor in handicraft. Much of the material being used to create useful articles would otherwise go to waste, but when it is brought under the tools of those who have a knack of changing its form, color or condition, it becomes once more fit for human use.

Now one would never suppose that an old, wornout inner tube could get into society; yet it is exhibited in the collection of articles at the YMCA as a stout handbag. The tubes are cut into strips and then woven together to make a large bag suspended by two wooden handles. This bag can be used to carry bundles home from the store and for countless other errands. A similar bag has been made from a gunny sack and some cast-off yarn.

A little paint makes a lot of difference in the appearance. One would

Notre Dame's 'Cradle' Now Shrine

Hidden behind a score of modern structures on the campus of the University of Notre Dame is this picturesque log chapel, a replica of the mission church built in 1829 and used in 1842 as the first home of the " Fighting Irish." It is a campus shrine and hundreds of Notre Dame alumni have returned to be married in the tiny chapel, which is still in daily use. Father Badin, first Roman Catholic priest to be ordained in the United States, is buried under the floor of the building.

hardly give an empty tin can a second look, but when it has been cut down and fashioned into a rather cunning ash tray and gaily painted, its former humble condition would scarcely be noticed. In fact it would not be polite to remind the tray of its lowly origin.

Merchants of the city have donated scrap lumber and other materials.

Some clever carving and careful painting, and there appear bird shelters, ornamental birds, shields, and other decorative pieces. There's the water baby that you can stick in the ground to decorate your front lawn, and the poll parrot you can hang on the porch. A redbird sitting on the trellis would make a real splash of color on a dreary winter landscape.

There are rag rugs, table mats from strips of inner tubes, rag dolls, a huge teddy bear made from an old overcoat, and many other interesting things that have been turned out by the workers who are taking handicraft instruction.

The class is designed to train those who can go out into other communities and conduct classes. As soon as possible instructors will be sent into these outlying communities in the county. Classes to be opened in both city and county will be free to all who want to learn how to make useful articles, play stringed instruments, etc. WPA pays the wages of the instructors.

New Berlin House Damaged by Blaze

Flames Destroy Roof of Hill Residence But Home is Saved

New Berlin—The residence occupied by the Hill family and owned by Miss Anna Nusbaum was badly damaged by fire Tuesday, the roof being burned off. The fire department succeeded in bringing the blaze under control before the property was destroyed.

The monthly teachers' meeting of the Baptist church was held Monday night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Short, with a pot luck supper at 6:30 o'clock.

Funeral services for Charles Grandjean were conducted Tuesday afternoon at the home of his nephew, Roy Grandjean. Mr. Grandjean had been a resident of this community the greater part of his life. Expect New Factory At White Hall to Furnish Sixty Jobs

Report on New Enterprise
Made to Citizens at White Hall—The Citizens' Community club held its regular meeting Tuesday evening at the White Hall hotel with about thirty men present. The meeting was primarily a welcome to the management of the new garment factory which has been located in White Hall. Mr. Ditchman, manager of the plant, and Mrs. McCourt were guests and made talks on their plans and prospects here. It is expected that about sixty women will be employed in the factory when it is fully established.

E. J. Lukeman and Paul Fenni made reports on the new White Hall—Aisy hard road right-of-way condemnation proceedings. Everything is going forward as fast as can be done toward this new road. The Greene county supervisors met recently and appropriated money to help out on this project. A part of the money had been secured by subscription.

The Apple Creek Prairie club met at the home of Mrs. Edward Gillett on West Bridgeport street, Tuesday in an all day meeting. There were twenty present and one guest, Mrs. Lena Lang. John Lendom gave a demonstration of various paper novelties and necessities to be used in the home. An exchange of valentines was the answer to roll call. The next meeting will be held with Mrs. Lee Griswold in March and will be an afternoon meeting. Numbers were drawn for hostesses for the next year. The new officers are Mrs. Henry Griswold, president; Mrs. Lee Griswold, vice-president; Mrs. Ansil Brannan, secretary and treasurer.

Couple Married 53 Years

Mr. and Mrs. James Painter who reside on West Bridgeport street celebrated their fifty-third wedding anniversary very quietly at their home Tuesday. When they celebrated their golden wedding three years ago, Mr. Painter recalled that when they were married there was a deep snow on the ground and that it was very cold. He had to drive a sleigh to Carrollton to get his license and bring his uncle, Ensign John Painter, to perform the marriage ceremony at the home of the bride's parents, Jacob and Phillipine Wey Keller, near Walkerville, south-west of White Hall.

Mrs. Painter's maiden name was Mary Keller. They are the parents of two daughters, Mrs. Verne Price of White Hall vicinity and Mrs. J. F. Touer of Denver, Colo. There is one grandson, Robert Price of White Hall.

She was assisted by Mrs. J. F. Breen and Robert Potts. The hours were from 9:30 to 11:30. The children played a number of supervised games and Mrs. Breen told them a story. Deiores Conrad gave a tap dance and sang. The children colored pictures and prizes were awarded for the best pictures. Helen Wilcox received first honors and Hazel Chapman was second. A valentine party will be given next Saturday morning and all children between 6 and 18 are eligible to attend these parties.

Mrs. Barnard expects to start a typing class for adults soon, probably this week. Both men and women are eligible for this instruction, and any one interested may report to her or to Paul Brown, county recreational director, at his office in the Grange block.

OWNER OF FAMOUS DICKSON MOUNDS SUMMONED BY DEATH

Thomas Dickson, 61 years old, owner of the famous Dickson prehistoric mounds near Lewistown, Ill., died suddenly at his home from a heart attack. Mr. Dickson was known by numerous Jacksonville residents who have visited the mounds south of Lewistown.

Dickson left his farm home to feed a pet fox and when he did not return members of the family started a search. He was found dead on the ground near the fox pen.

His son, Dr. Don Dickson, has been in active charge of the mounds for several years.

Prof. H. J. Stratton Speaks at Meeting Of Study Club Here

Reviews Depressions in Talk to Young Men of Y.M.C.A.
Vocational Group

A review of depressions of the past hundred years was given by Professor H. J. Stratton of Illinois College at a meeting of the Young Men's Vocational Study Club of the YMCA held Tuesday evening. Depressions are not new to this generation according to Mr. Stratton, though there has seldom, if ever, been one as serious and far-reaching as the present. A study of business indicates without question that conditions are steadily improving. However as the depression progresses with a series of recoveries along with failing conditions gradually becoming worse, so in recovery improving conditions have frequent setbacks in their advance which often gives the impression, unless carefully surveyed, that conditions may not be improving.

It was also announced that one Thursday evening a group interested in woodworking will meet in the YMCA rooms, 423 West State street for instruction along these lines under the leadership of R. M. Spillman.

These activities are all open to any of the young men of Jacksonville without cost.

Instruction in handicrafts, etc., is being given by leaders secured through the WPA recreation program of which Fred Darr is project director.

The young men's club is organized through the cooperation of John Curtis, local manager of the National Reemployment Office.

Decatur.—Ticket sale for the ninth annual state Catholic basketball tournament to be held here at the Armory Feb. 28, 29 and March 1 has been opened by Fr. Phil J. Newman, athletic director of St. Teresa high school.

Interest in the event is growing all over the state and it is expected that this year's attendance will hit a new high. Pairings and time schedule will be announced late Saturday afternoon after a meeting of the executive committee of Illinois Catholic High School Athletic Association.

Cathedral of Springfield still rules as the favorite after its great season which shows only one defeat against strong competition. The Cyclones are seeking their first state championship this year. Their best previous showing was in 1934 at Jacksonville where they lost out in the finals to Corpus Christi of Galesburg by two points.

The improvement of Spalding lately stamps the Peorians as one of the title threats along with Quincy Academy, Spalding, always at its best when tournament times come, will be after its fifth state championship.

Away to a slow start, Spalding has hit a winning stride lately and rates as one of the "darkhorses" especially after its recent overtime triumph over Trinity of Bloomington.

Another unheralded team which may provide some upsets before the tourney ends is St. Bede of LaSalle.

The Bedans hold victories over Trinity, Spalding and Corpus Christi this season and are set for a title bid.

Last year St. Bede captured third place in the state meet after losing to Fenwick of Oak Park, 1935 State champions, in the semi-finals.

Three Games Booked For Y.

League Standing
7:10 p. m.—Chevrolets vs. Merchants.
8:00 p. m.—Lynnville vs. Smits Indeeds.
8:30 p. m.—Swift vs. CCC.

Hopes of the Swifts quintet in the Y. M. C. A. basketball loop are facing a severe test tonight when the Packers meet the well coached and hard playing lads from the local CCC. The CCC team dropped its first game, but showed a lot of class in winning their second start against league opposition.

Three games are on the card for the David Prince court tonight. Smith's Indeeds, one of the main contenders for the title, will tackle the Lynnville A. C. in the second tilt, and the Jacksonville Merchants clash with the Chevrolets.

No admission is charged for the games, which are under the supervision of Kenneth Mann.

100 Applicants For Coach Job

By Alan Gond

Associated Press Sports Editor
New York, Feb. 12.—(P)—In the search for a successor to Gil Dobie as head football coach, Cornell University has so far received close to 100 applications, including a surprise nomination in behalf of Dr. Clarence W. Spears, veteran Wisconsin coach now under the guns of an athletic probe.

Despite a denial at Madison, Wis., that he had applied for the job, it was learned authoritatively he is among the candidates, whether or not he has communicated directly with the authorities at Ithaca.

This development was viewed with special interest because of its implications as to the possible outcome of the current investigation into football affairs at Wisconsin. Spears, head coach of the Badgers since 1932 and a former Dartmouth All-American player, has been at loggerheads with Dr. Walter Meanwell, director of Wisconsin Athletics.

Dobie hooked up with Boston College two days after resigning his $11,000 post under pressure, but Cornell has encountered complications as well as a host of job-seekers in trying to replace "Gloomy Gil" with a more youthful optimist.

No decision has yet been reached and James Lynch, the new athletic director, has adopted a policy of not commenting upon any individual candidates. It is likely a final list of "preferred applicants" will be drawn up for consideration soon, with a final choice likely early in March. Meanwhile speculation is rife.

Duffner's popularity extends far beyond the walls of the University of Illinois. He recently was notified that he was one of 15 students in the University who was eligible to have his biography appear in the "Who's Who in the American Universities," a book published by the University of Alabama.

Other dope from the University is that the Rideout twins, who flunked enough scholastic work to bar themselves from track competition this season, have pulled up stakes and set out for Tuscaloosa where they hope to enroll at Alabama.

Almost anything is apt to happen tonight when White Hall and Roodhouse get together on the White Hall court. The game has been moved up from Friday to Thursday night in order to compete officials to handle the game.

White Hall didn't rest easily after they dropped the Greene county semifinal to the Railroaders, and at the same time it appears that Roodhouse has one of those basketball teams that can play the game when the incentive is strong. Another victory over White Hall, we would say, would be of those luring incentives. White Hall won the regularly scheduled game by four points.

Andrew Chapman, Winchester high's coach, was flabbergasted the other night when Rountout suddenly over took his Wildcats and then beat them in an overtime. There was no excuse for the defeat he declared. It is understood to have put in a bid.

One rumor has it that Doug Mills, his assistant, will be placed in charge of the cagers when Ruby leaves at the end of the year. Another is that Wally Roettger may be called upon to head up the basketball department, where he was so eminently successful at Illinois Wesleyan.

"It makes a man old before his time. You get plenty of abuse from the bleachers too but the kids themselves are swell. There's one Big Ten school where I'm supposed to be one of the favorite officials and if I'm a favorite the Lord help those they don't like."

I called six straight fouls on their team one night, everyone deserved, and I thought the ceiling was falling in. There must have been a thousand programs out on the floor. The fellow who was working the game with me started to help pick them up but I told him: "Don't you touch one of them." I sat right down in the middle of the floor and waited until it was cleared. And don't think that I didn't make sure the next foul I called was on the same team."

"Listen, you mug," said Stan. "If you've got a hard game coming up Saturday night with Tennessee I'd advise you to send your first team home and play your subs tonight. You've got two of the meanest officials in the business working this game."

"Who?" asked the Kentucky Colonel.

"Both of them are Feezees," said the big, bad fox.

"Heaven help us," moaned Mr. Rupp, and beat a hasty retreat.

the work of these committees there will be set up in every county a co-ordinated farm and home educational program which will have for its purpose the advancement of the economic and social welfare of Illinois farmers, farm home makers and their families. The new undertaking is a continuation of a program co-ordination which has been in progress in Illinois for a number of years but which was interrupted by various emergency activities that have come up since the spring of 1933. Both the national planning and the national discussion group projects being launched by the U. S. Department of Agriculture are incorporated as a part of the county project.

Making up the corps of 2,000 is a committee appointed for each county of the state by Director Mumford and working in co-operation with the local county farm and home advisers. Through keeping with this, the functions of the county committees will be to encourage more interest and participation by farm people in group discussions of their problems, to analyze available facts regarding farm and home conditions in their own counties, to outline an educational program based on these facts and to make the necessary arrangements for carrying out such a program.

Within the next few weeks representatives from the extension service of the agricultural college, serving as supervisors for the different farming areas of the state, will visit their respective counties to confer with the committees and assist them in getting their work started.

Lincoln Day Speaker Flays New Deal at Republican Meeting

"The New Deal is backed by no political or economic philosophy that has ever been explained. It combines the vices of communism and capitalism, but possesses the virtues of neither." This analysis of the New Deal was propounded before a large audience here last evening by Judge W. Edgar Sampson of Springfield, who delivered the address at the Lincoln Day banquet, held at the New Dunlap hotel. Judge Sampson discussed New Deal legislation and showed its weakness in the light of past experience and measured by the fundamental principles on which the nation was founded.

The speaker was introduced by Attorney Carl E. Robinson, chairman for the evening, who was presented by County Chairman Harry T. Strawn, who called the meeting to order. Nearly 250 persons gathered for the dinner in the New Dunlap dining room. Seated at the speakers' table were Mayor and Mrs. Fletcher J. Blackburn Mr. and Mrs. Carl E. Robinson, Judge and Mrs. W. Edgar Sampson, and Mr. Strawn.

The program opened with selections by the Republican Quartet, composed of Ben Denny, Maurice Peckham, Gus Waltman and Emmerson Lewis. The quartet also sang at the close of the program, and for its entertainment received hearty applause.

Mr. Robinson pointed out that the greatness of Lincoln has steadily grown. He deplored the fact that some of the principles he taught and the sayings he uttered that have become household words in the nation have been used to bolster up new and radical ideas in government, ideas of which Lincoln never dreamed.

"Today, not only Americans but people all over the civilized world once again have turned their minds to Abraham Lincoln, the first Republican President, and perhaps the greatest man who ever walked on the North American Continent," said Mr. Robinson. "The words of this plain and simple man are now common place in the homes of all our people irrespective of race, creed or color. Passages from his simple but sublime eloquence are memorized by every American school boy."

Sam Smith—Imitations. Mrs. Harry Allen—Holland Embassy. "Bill the Brute." T. J. Dugan, introducing Patrician Ann Dugan, Shirley Knuckey and Rhoda Anne Cowick, tap dancers.

Dr. Wm. O'Reilly—As Prof. Beasley, remarks. Mrs. E. V. Patterson as Mrs. Washington, introducing her daughter, Gene, as Alice Longworth, Mary Todd Kathryn Hepburn, Washington, tap dancer.

New Deal Harmonizers—R. R. Jones, A. C. Boos, Guy R. Codding and H. B. Corrie.

Vocal numbers—Mrs. Ralph Peak and Mrs. W. E. Harper.

Dr. A. J. Chapman as Raphael Sebastian Paderewski, harmonica.

Miss Louise Frost as Mrs. Percival Van Horne, vocal solo.

Mrs. Dan T. Smith as Isy Ish, remarks on reducing.

Pension Committee Meets.

The Scott County Commission of Public Welfare, which is in charge of the administration of Old Age Assistance in Scott county, met yesterday evening with County Judge L. Allan Watt and organized for commencement of the administration in this county. Paul Green of Bluffs was chosen chairman of the committee of three and Miss Alice L. Mudd was designated as secretary. The committee will not distribute blanks for application for the assistance until appointments have been made to carry out the administrative duties in the county. These appointments will not and cannot be made until information is received from the state department relative to them. The committee will meet the first part of next week at which time they hope to have the necessary information to complete their organization and commence the issuance of application blanks.

Celebrates 96th Birthday.

"Of course the system has not worked altogether perfectly. When a great war is allowed to destroy life and property, depression and economic distress always follows. The world war wrought such a destruction, and all nations have felt its blighting effects. Some have tried different methods to restore prosperity. In Russia, we have communism, where the individual has become subordinate to the state, and all property has been taken over by the government. This system has worked splendidly in every country that has tried it, and has been responsible for most of the progress the world has made.

The committee will not distribute blanks for application for the assistance until appointments have been made to carry out the administrative duties in the county. These appointments will not and cannot be made until information is received from the state department relative to them. The committee will meet the first part of next week at which time they hope to have the necessary information to complete their organization and commence the issuance of application blanks.

MOUNTAINEER WORK DISCUSSED HERE WEDNESDAY NIGHT

Rev. Abram Nightingale addressed an audience at the Congregational church last evening, telling of his own success to work out his destiny has been recognized from the first. Our civilization has been built on that idea, with the understanding that every person should have and enjoy the fruits of his labor, that he should have liberty of action in his business and in the handling of his property. This system has worked splendidly in every country that has tried it, and has been responsible for most of the progress the world has made.

In countries such as England, France and Canada, where the people have chosen to remain true to time-tested methods of restoration, we note that recovery is farther advanced than anywhere else. In the United States the stimulation of production we had during the war brought speculation and a crash later, and we have tried something new also to bring back prosperity. We have the same old story.

The land in and around Crossville, county seat, supported the mining industry and extensive timber operations. At present both resources are exhausted, leaving no work of any consequence except the clearing of the waste land which is being carried on as a government work relief project. The near desert area will be limed in an effort to make farming profitable.

More than 250 families are now "homesteaded" by the aid of the subsistence organization.

Rev. Nightingale described the needs of the people, and the many ways which churches could aid them.
